

BRAINSTORMING

Board Game Project

Names _____

Getting Started

1. What is the name of your game?
2. How many players can play/are needed for your game?
3. What are you going to use as markers to move around the board?
4. How do you move around the board? (dice, spinner, draw cards, etc)

Game Board

5. Draw a rough draft of what your game board will look like.

Directions/Rules

6. What is the object of your game? (how do you win)

7. What set up is necessary before play begins? (where do you put the markers to begin, do cards need shuffled or sorted and put somewhere special, does anything need passed out, etc)

8. How do you play the game, step-by-step? BE SPECIFIC! Consider the following in your steps:
 - Who goes first?
 - What do you do when it is your turn? (Roll, draw a card, answer a question, etc.)
 - How do the question cards factor in?
 - Do you pick up your own card or does someone else ask you?
 - What if you answer the question correctly? What if you are wrong?
 - Are there any special spaces on the board or special directions to follow?

Fifty Review Questions and Answers from Notes

Chemistry of Life

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

Cells

6.

7.

8.

9.

10.

Photosynthesis and Respiration

11.

12.

13.

14.

15.

Cell Growth and Division

16.

17.

18.

19.

20.

Genetics

21.

22.

23.

24.

25.

DNA and Chromosomes

26.

27.

28.

29.

30.

RNA and Protein Synthesis

31.

32.

33.

34.

35.

Genetic Engineering

36.

37.

38.

39.

40.

Ecology

41.

42.

43.

44.

45.

Evolution

46.

47.

48.

49.

50.

Teacher's Signature _____ Date _____